What We're in for

Is a Tax Transfer

Rather Than Tax Cut

The American people repeatedly endorsed borrowing and spending money under Roosevelt and Truman because it was supposed to be for the good of our country; but in the current approach to the tax-cutting question all you hear is a lot of guff about what it will do for individuals — hardly a word about what it will do for the country.

But when you borrow money you have to maintain the public debt, pay its interest, and establish amortization reserves. Democratic Congressional leaders hit a new low in morality this month when, after personally helping pile up a monumental public debt, they turned on the Eisenhower administration and joined the hue-and-cry for indiscriminate tax reduction.

I grant you there is loud and justified outcry against a long list of excise taxes which hit the people personally and which single out certain industries instead of covering business as a whole. Why pay taxes on a movie ticket, a telephone call, or a train or airline fare? All these are part of normal American living, and this crazy-quilt scheme of taxation definitely damages the businesses it is levied against.

But the Eisenhower administration is still in the hole where Roosevelt's and Truman's spending put the country — and any tax-cut program which increases the federal deficit is simply dishonest. I've been plugging for repeal of some of the excise taxes myself, but with the idea of transferring the tax load to all business — not just part of it. The citizens themselves have for a long time felt eventually we would have to have a federal manufacturer's sales tax. Why not re-arrange the tax burden and thus get rid of piecemeal "nuisance" taxes?

Labor spokesmen are berating Eisenhower because on another angle of the tax question he is, they say, preparing a program in favor of business rather than the people. What they are talking about is the proposal to reduce double-taxation on corporations. Corporation earnings are taxed at the corporate level, and then they are taxed again when the stockholder gets his dividends and files his personal income tax return. Even in the smallest corporation the government gets more of the profit than the owners do — and the government gets paid in cash, the owners hold anything that has to be held.

Don't try to tell me a situation like this has no effect on employment, regardless what the unions' Philadelphia-lawyers say. Practically all important labor-hiring is by corporations, yet the No. 1 hirer of labor is stashed with double taxation — while the businesses which don't call for much labor pay only one tax.

Labor talked itself into power in Great Britain once — but after studying their distributive in Washington I can understand why they were thrown out. You can't ever separate the people from an economic question which affects the place where they work and earn a living — not even in that curious distortion of truth which we call politics.

I am an interested party, of course, in this matter of reducing the double-tax on corporations. But what I say about the excise taxes also goes for the corporate double-tax — you can't do much about cutting them unless you transfer the burden to the country as a whole.

America owes probably more money than the rest of the world combined. And the first time we let ourselves forget that, we as a nation are through.

Back in the 1930's a farmer friend said something to me, and all of a sudden I was talking to a stranger. I had been attacking the Roosevelt administration for profligacy, during the second term, and this farmer said:

"Why worry about all that government borrowing? The big fellows will have to pay that. It will never in the world get down to us little fellows."

But practically everything the little fellow buys comes from the big fellows including their taxes — only today more folks know what I am talking about than in the 1930's.

President to Air Tax Program to the Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower announced today he will go on television and radio probably next week to discuss in formally the philosophy behind the administration's tax bill.

The President, making his plans known at a news conference, made no reference directly to a pending House bill to cut excise taxes by about 912 million dollars a year.

His announcement also came against the background of a Democratic move to boost personal income tax exemptions by $100 at an additional loss in revenue.

The administration has not endorsed the excise cut, and the Treasury has indicated strong opposition to the exemption increase.

Eisenhower did say that his address will deal with the general philosophy of his tax program.

In the past he has repeatedly stressed that the government has to get the money to pay its bills, and that the aim is to get it with the least burden to the economy and to the people.

House leaders of both political parties were predicting close to unanimous approval for the excise cut. The bill also would postpone for one year scheduled cuts in other excise rates. The administration wants that part of the measure.

Hours of political debate were in prospect, however, over different aspects of the first major tax bill to hit the House floor in this Senate has not acted on it. The bill would level off at 10 per cent all excise or sales tax rates now above that figure, except for liquor and tobacco, effective April 1.

Sponsors said this would bring a wide range of price as well as tax cuts, save shoppers substantial sums, and give a boost to business to help combat the present economic dip.

In the background, a big fight was shaping up for next Wednesday and Thursday, when a bill to overhaul almost all tax laws is scheduled on the House floor.

Democrats will fight to add a $100 increase in individual income tax exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent.

Woman-Dominated American Males Find Situation Just Reversed With Japanese Wife

By RELMAN MORIN

(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — In northern Japan the other day, I watched an American sergeant board a train, followed by a pretty Japanese girl.

She was lugging a clumsy bundle. His hands were empty. There was a seat near the door, and the sergeant indicated that she should take it. She hesitated, glancing around the car. Then she spotted another seat, up ahead, and went there, still wrestling with the bundle.

From time to time, as the train rumbled along, she turned to look at the sergeant. He fell asleep after a while and presently she came down the aisle, loosened his necktie, and unbuttoned his collar. He smiled through the drowsiness. I thought of the axiom, coined long ago by white men who live in the Orient: "The formula for happiness is to have an American style house, a Chinese cook, and a Japanese wife."

There is some disagreement about the first two points, but you seldom hear a dissenting vote on the third.

Meeting to Study Cotton Production

All important in 1954 production practices will be considered Thursday morning at 10:00 at a cotton meeting in the county courtroom, stated County Agent Oliver L. Adams today. University of Arkansas Cotton Specialist Runyan Dgore will lead the discussion.

Cotton with a guaranteed minimum price offers one of the best possibilities for profit of any field crop on many Hempstead County farms. Generally the better the yield generally the better the greater profit per acre.

Fertilizer placement, proper kind and amount of fertilizer, and other production practices that tend to increase profitable cotton production will be discussed by Mr. Derre. These important jobs to be done are well within the reach of all Hempstead County cotton producers who plant cotton with a planned goal of net profit.

"Men Who Grow Cotton," a colored sound film reviewing the cotton industry, will be shown beginning promptly at 10:00 Thursday morning announced Agent Adams. All farmers and friends of the cotton industry in Hempstead County are invited to attend.

Practices that will lead the way for greater farm profits will be discussed Thursday night at 7:30 at a county-wide farm management clinic in the Hempstead County courtroom announced County Agent Oliver L. Adams today.

Byron Huddleston, Farm Management Specialist, University of Arkansas, will lead the farm management study. All farmers and other interested individuals are invited.

A farm business analysis guide that will point the way for success on our type of farms will be given each individual attending the Thursday night farm management clinic.

Guatemala Tries to Scuttle Latin Defense Plan

By Donald J. Gonzales

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Guatemala today began an 11th hour effort to scuttle growing support for U. S. efforts to curb Communist expansion in the Western hemisphere.

U. S. delegates to the 10th Inter-American conference predicted the maneuver would fail, but they acknowledged it could delay anti-Communist action wanted quickly by Secretary of States John Foster Dulles.

Guillermo Toriello, stalked out of a conference session late yesterday, said he would offer a new resolute in the anti-Communist debate underway in a committee here.

Toriello gave no advance word of his strategy, but diplomats expected him to try to capitalize on Latin American efforts to amend the U. S. resolution, which would condemn communism and take measure curb it in the hemisphere.

Ike Deplores Republican Warfare as Danger to Administration Plan

Segregation May Stand, Cherry Warns

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Francis Cherry said today that he wouldn't "anticipate that the U. S. Supreme Court will change the law" in the racial segregation cases now pending before it.

A decision is being awaited in several cases in which Negro school patrons are seeking to abolish laws or regulations requiring separate facilities for white and Negro pupils.

Cherry said he believes the Constitution and present federal laws uphold the requirements for "separate but equal" facilities which the Supreme Court in the past has held to be sufficient.

Cherry added that, even if the separate but equal viewpoint is again upheld by the court, "we still have the financial problem of equalizing facilities, but it's the same problem we have now and not a new one."

The governor said he definitely thinks facilities for Negro pupils should be equalized. He added that he believes Arkansas has made great strides in that direction in recent years.

He commented that he thinks buildings and other physical facilities are important, but that he considers even more important adequate instruction for Negro students and as full as enrollment of Negroes as possible.

Turkish Girl to 'Forget' Arkansas GI

By AL KAFF

YANGCHON, Korea (UP) — Attractive Sagda Salahudin, who wears her long black hair in pig-tails caught up on the back of her head, promised several American war prisoners she would write them when they all were freed from Communist prison camps in Korea.

Captured along with her family at the age of 16, the Turkish girl shared a North Korean death march, cruelly cold prison camps and meager corn and millet rations with hundreds of GI prisoners.

"One soldier gave me his dog-tag," she said, "and I still have it. I also have quite a few names and addresses."

She will write to some of them, but she wants to forget William A. Cowart, of Monticello, Ark. He was one of the 21 American soldiers who rejected his homeland to become a Communist "peace fighter."

"I first met Cowart in 1951,"

Sagda — now 19 — said in the U. S. Army's quarantine center where she is being held with 18 other Turks and stateless Russians released by the Communists on March 1.

"We — the women and children — were staying in a prison hospital, and he was living in the next room. He was sick and very thin."

"My two young brothers were sick with diarrhea and malaria. So we gave Cowart their food. I could speak Japanese and I begged tobacco and butter from the guards to give to him."

Cowart is the dried meat of soldiers which yields oil for soap, paints, candy, shortening, plastic lubricants, explosives and other things.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeling, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often the first signs of Pin-Worms. So we gave Cowart their food. I could speak Japanese and I begged tobacco and butter from the guards to give to him. Cowart is the dried meat of soldiers which yields oil for soap, paints, candy, shortening, plastic lubricants, explosives and other things. First a physician's examination is needed to be sure you have Pin-Worms. Don't take chances with dangerous rectal conditions. At the first signs of Pin-Worms, ask your doctor for powerful JAYNE'S P.W. Vermicide. The annual, easy-to-take tablets are prescribed by famous Dr. D. New Scheme to Collect Parking Fines

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Fuming drivers who wouldn't be caught dead—no less alive—in the parking station to pay a parking fine have found salvation at last in the "trafo-tertia."

Kentucky Bests LSU for Loop Title

BY ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Only one spot remained to filled in the round of 16 in the NCAA basketball tournaments today—and that vacancy is the result of one of the most stunning upsets in Big Seven history.

Missouri, with a mediocre 5-8 record in conference play, surged from behind in the third quarter to defeat Dr. Phog Allen's Kansas Jayhawks 76-67 last night and snatched the loop into a deadlock for first place.

No word both Kansas and Colorado boast 10 2 records and the NCAA representative will be decided by a draw from a hat late today in the Kansas City office of Reaves

Ned Duncan. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Duncan and children who spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jewel White.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Buchanan Mr. and Mrs. Roy Loomis Rev. Wesley Lindsey, Betty Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Bowlin, Mr. and Mrs. Glover attended the B. T. U. memory drill at the Beech St. Baptist Church, Gurdon on Friday night in which Billy Loomis and Danny Lindsey took part. They will also take part in the state memory drill to be held in Little Rock Saturday evening.

Gilbert Buchanan, student at the University of Arkansas Fayetteville, spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. William Buchanan, and had as his guests, Ed Patterson of Clarksville and Jack Lowery of Russellville.

Mrs. Brozie Haynie spent Friday in Hope with her sister, Mrs. Jewel Roberts, who underwent surgery at the Julia Chester Hospital.

Miss Julia Smith of Arkadelphia was the Saturday guest of Miss Claudette Smith.

Miss Betty Lou Davis of Henderson State Teachers College, Arkadelphia and Will Ed Davis of East Texas State, Denton, Texas spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Davis.

Peters, executive secretary of the Big Seven.

A question that had been puzzling the experts for the past two weeks also was answered when Kentucky, winner of the South eastern Conference with a record from the NCAA Tournament because its three big stars were ineligible. Without Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey and Lou Tsioros poulos, who are not permitted to perform in NCAA postseason competition because they are graduate students, the Wildcats couldn't hope to win the tournament.

They captured the league crown last night in a playoff with Louisiana State 63-56 and immediately announced they would bypass the NCAA Louisiana State, which finished the loop season with a 14-0 slate, the same as Kentucky, was given the berth.

a heavy track in the Inaugural Purse and wound up fifth in last Saturday's King Cotton Handicap. However, in the King Cotton she was sent out to set the pace for stablemate Feu-a-Peu, who won in a drive down the stretch.

If the track remained fast, Ever Bright was expected to draw top support from the bettors. Her toughest competition was expected to come from C. H. Everitt's Little Imp, J. J. Lombardo's Whirlwind and E. B. McAttee's Darkie.

Others entered were Mrs. Elizabeth Mueckler's Huetel, J. T. Dillard's Euehall, E. A. Glass' Mt. Mulnar, A. L. Birch's Old Mash, Denham and Walkers' Granite Flyer, Ray Fisher's Skin Junior, M. M. Mitchell's Master Red and W. M. Wiggings' Daiquiri.

Eighteen three-year-olds were entered in the supporting feature, the six-furlong Pine Bluff Purse.

Spur Baby turned loose a final second burst of speed to defeat 10 other Arkansas Derby hopefuls in yesterday's featured Eastern Arkansas Purse.

Jockey Richard Lawless got the bay gelding out of the gate in front, and Spur Baby held the lead until the field hit the stretch. Little F. closed in to get in front for a moment, but Spur Babegot up in the final strides to win by a nose. Flashy Ways was third.

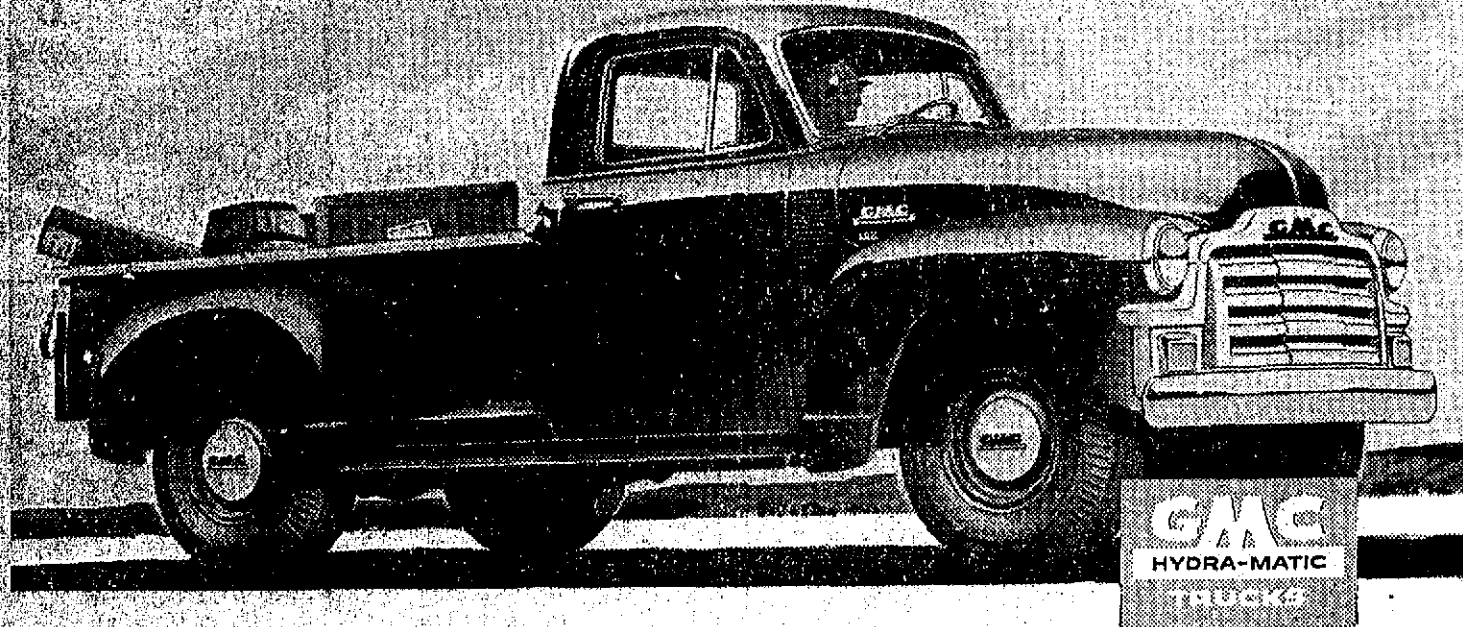

Spur Baby, owned by J. L. and J. B. Spurlock, turned the six furlongs in 1:11.1, and paid $13 on a $2 win ticket.

G&F Asked to Help Kill Wolves

GREENWOOD (AP)—The Grand Jury for Greenwood District of Sebastian County yesterday asked the Arkansas Fish and Game commission for immediate aid in ridding the area of "numerous wolves."

The jury said wolves were to blame for recent raids on poultry in the area and it is feared that such raids may soon turn to live stock.

Half-ton beauty with a two-ton punch

Sure, its sleek lines, full-width grille and panoramic windshield are handsomely un-trucklike.

There's the same dashing air about the inside, too. Three-passenger roominess. Two-tone color treatment. Harmonizing, supple-as-leather upholstery. Smart instrument panel, with dials clustered for instant visibility through a tri-spoke wheel.

But mister—take another look!

A burly, brawny brute of an engine—a real truck engine—makes you think of a Miss America who also can bend horseshoes. One hundred-and-twenty-five horsepower guarantees that this beauty can lift a top load with more ease and dash than you've ever seen before.

That's more power than some makers pack into their two-ton models. That's more usable power than in any other 6-cylinder engine in its class!

And look at that wide, deep box. It holds at least 8 cubic feet more than even the roomy '53 model. That tail gate isn't only grain-tight—it's sand-tight.

Finally, to top it off, it offers Truck Hydra-Matic Drive®—the supreme automatic shift that saves you, saves your cash, saves your time.

(Note to those who want the look of luxury in a truck: there's a DE LUXE model at extra cost, with chrome grille and trim, two-tone paint, curved rear corner windows—the works!)

Come in and drive this great GMC. It will do all the selling—by itself.

*Truck Hydra-Matic Drive standard on some models, optional at extra cost on others.
